

MSU Summer Scholars Patron Pledge

Mississippi State University's Summer Scholars Program offers two residential camps for gifted and talented students who have completed grades seven through twelve. The camps emphasize well-being of each student through a careful blending of academics, recreation and personal and social development. Public school teachers, college students, and university faculty combine their talents to facilitate the writing, direction, and production of an original musical comedy.

The camps are not funded by the university but are sponsored, in part, by the Mississippi Arts Commission and the L. A. Smith Fund to promote performing Arts at MSU. The main support for the camps is tuition. Scholarship funds are provided through the generosity of individuals and organizations that sponsor portions of the camper's tuition. A patron contribution to the MSU Summer Scholars Fund is a tax-exempt donation to be used as a scholarship or as designated below. To become a patron, submit this form.

I wish to become a Patron of Summer Scholars. I acknowledge that any contribution to the MSU Summer Scholars Fund is a tax-exempt donation to be used to support the Summer Scholars On-Stage Program.
